Your video will be encoded at 320 X 240 Flash Video Format (.flv), at a download speed of 300 kbps, unless you have a different size preference, for example 56k for dial-up users. Notable users of the Flash Video format include YouTube, Google Video, Reuters.com, Yahoo! Video, and many television news operations are also using Flash Video on their websites. Full screen encoding at 640 X 480 FLV format is also available, as well as High Def. but caution should be used as very fast processor speeds are required and the file sizes will be 4 times that of their standard-sized counterparts. Please call us for a quote if you have a need for full-screen encoding.
